Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

When you obtain that new $5 Federal tax stamp for that motor vehicle of yours, which must be done by July 1, you will notice the picture of a man on the stamp.

You probably won't recognize him, and may not be able to make out the fine print under the picture that gives his name.

However the picture is that of D. Manning, who was Secretary of the Treasury under Grover Cleveland.

Did you ever see the roses more abundant or more beautiful than they have been this year?

The abundant rainfall has brought out masses of the gorgeous bloom and all lovers of roses (and that includes just about all of us) are enjoying them to the utmost.

Nearly all varieties are simply "trying themselves" this spring, and I have noted more bouquets of the popular, shiny-leaved, Dr. Van Fleet roses than any other variety, although bouquets of the other favorites are unusually beautiful by reason of the size and perfection of nearly every blossom.

Not only are the full-blown roses more gorgeous than usual, but the lovely buds in all their beauty, speak volumes and delight the heart.

When I met Jobe Burris, of Rattlesnake Valley, I said to him: "How are you and the rattlesnakes getting along?"

"I killed my first one of the season a few days ago, and it had six rattles and a button," replied Jobe, who probably has killed about as many rattlesnakes in Fayette County as any other resident.

You know Rattlesnake Creek obtained its name from the large number of prairie rattlers that infest the prairies along its valley. While the number today is small compared with that of years ago, there are plenty of the venomous little snakes (they rarely exceed 30 inches in length) still found in Fayette County, within a short distance of the stream.

The six rattles mentioned by Jobe means that particular snake was six years old, and the button was a new rattle forming, indicating that the snake was soon to add another year to its life.

MILITARY TRAINING URGED BY HISTORIAN

Unpreparedness Cost Many Lives, He Declares

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—Editor-historian Douglas Southall Freeman said today "compulsory military service, properly administered, has proved to be the surest, most democratic and most economic system of essential national defense."

In testimony prepared for the House postwar military policy committee, the editor of the Richmond, Va., News Leader said:

"The examination of American military history makes clear... (that) the old cycle of disarmament, negligence and frenzied preparation for war has cost our nation unreckonable billions of dollars and hundreds of thousands of lives."

The United States Chamber of Commerce advocated a peacetime draft today with a continuous training period of 12 months.

POISON GAS FOUND STORED IN GERMANY

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 13.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Gen. Jacob L. Devers said today that although the Germans had enormous quantities of a new type of poison gas known as "green ring II," there was no evidence to show they ever intended to use it as an offensive weapon.

Devers, who commanded the Sixth Army group on the western front, said that if Hitler ever had seriously contemplated use of it, he was restrained by the German general staff.

"Poison gas is never decisive," said the German general staff, "it is only a delaying device."

Ohio School Bill On Way to Passage Over Lausche Veto

House Gets Set To Follow Senate Which Overrode Governor's Disapproval — Other Measures Acted on By Legislature

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, June 14.—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche's veto of the Daniels-Cramer School Bill met sudden death in the Republican-controlled Ohio Senate yesterday and a similar fate was predicted in the House of Representatives by tomorrow.

If the predominantly Republican House follows the Senate lead, it will complete enactment of legislation providing a record total estimated by Lausche at $177,760,000 for the education of Ohio public school pupils in the next two school years.

The Senate voted 21-10 to override the veto. Sen. Joseph T. Williamson (D-Columbiana) was the only Democrat joining the score of Republicans in the balloting. Sens. James Betzenbaum and Emil A. Bartunek, both Cuyahoga County Democrats, did not vote.

Eighty-two votes are required in the House for the three-fifths majority needed to override. The lower chamber approved the school bill 105-20 last May 29.

Lausche announced Tuesday night that he was vetoing the bill on grounds that the amount provided was "unreasonable" and eventually would lead to imposition of new taxes.

As soon as the Senate was officially informed of his action, Sen. Albert L. Daniels (R-Highland), co-sponsor of the measure with Sen. Virgil E. Cramer (R-Please Turn to Page Two)

The Army's safety record for its men was described officially as nearly twice as good as that of the first World War.

The Maritime Commission said the 1,554 vessels lost flying the United States flag aggregated 6,277,077 deadweight tons. They fell prey to submarines, enemy mines or planes and wartime navigation hazards from Sept. 1, 1939, to last May 8.

Far outweighing this were deliveries of 5,016 ships totaling 48,674,000 deadweight tons, built in the three years, 1942-43-44.

Commission Chairman Emory S. Land said the sinkings were accompanied by "heavy loss of life."

He added that the casualty toll was 8,066 on May 1 by 487 seamen and officers listed as prisoners of war.

Simultaneously last night the navy and the British Admiralty released figures showing that a total of 4,770 Allied and Neutral merchant ships were lost by direct enemy action. Their weight, estimated at 40,000,000 tons, was also disclosed.

'NEW DEAL' OFFERED INDIA BY BRITAIN

LONDON, June 14.—(AP)—The British government, in a sweeping "new deal" for India, proposed today a new executive council which would be almost entirely Indian and, in the words of Viceroy Lord Wavell, "represent a definite advance on the road to self government."

At the same time that the secretary of state for India, L. S. Amery, unfolded the statement of policy to Parliament, Lord Wavell announced in a radio broadcast from New Delhi that orders had been given for the release of members of the working committee of the Indian All-Party Congress party still in detention.

3,604 SOLDIERS ARE LOST AT SEA

1,554 U. S. Merchant Ships
Sunk Up to V-E Day

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—The war at sea cost this country 1,554 merchant ships up to V-E Day and 5,579 crewmen dead or missing. The army lost 3,604 soldiers drowned in troop movements against Italy and Germany.

Against these sobering figures, however, Americans were told today that their shipbuilders sent more than seven tons of cargo shipping down for every ton lost to the Axis.

The Army's safety record for its men was described officially as nearly twice as good as that of the first World War.

The Maritime Commission said the 1,554 vessels lost flying the United States flag aggregated 6,277,077 deadweight tons. They fell prey to submarines, enemy mines or planes and wartime navigation hazards from Sept. 1, 1939, to last May 8.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—The government today clamped rigid controls on sugar in an effort to insure fairer distribution of available supplies.

Fixed quotas for all government agencies and other users were ordered by the War Food Administration which also announced that civilians will receive less sugar during the next three months.

The order divides among all primary distributors the total quantity of sugar available for distribution and gives each a separate quota for sales to the WFA, government agencies through the army, authorized purchasers and civilians.

The civilian allocation of 1,380,000 tons for July, August and September was 10,000 tons below the current quarter.

In Yakima, Wash., Chairman Anderson (D-NM) disclosed yesterday that the House Food Investigating Committee hopes sugar supplies can be augmented by Philippine production this year.

United Nations Conference Studies Withdrawal and Ouster Plans as It Drives Toward Conclusion at San Francisco

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—(AP)—The struggle of small nations to protect themselves against the big power control of a world league finally boiled down today to one demand—the right to withdraw from the organization whenever they wish.

Indications are that this demand will be granted, with some strings attached. The big powers are agreeable provided they now get two things:

A restriction that the charter being drawn up at the United Nations Conference cannot be amended except on complete agreement of the United States, Britain, Russia, France and China.

A punishment clause under which nations judged guilty of grave violations of the charter would be expelled from the organization.

Prolonged discussion of these problems appears to be one of the chief reasons why the conference leadership has once more delayed the adjournment goal, this time from June 20 to 23.

The Big Five agreed yesterday that the week end ahead should be a "working week end" with Sunday meetings as necessary.

Alger Hiss of the United States, conference secretary general, reported that final texts of the charter in five languages—Russian, Spanish, Chinese, French and English—are being kept up to date as committees finish their work. Copies in these languages must be ready for signing at the final session at which President Truman will speak.

Last night Conference Commission No. 3 approved provisions for regional defense systems, like the Pan-American, to allow nations to defend themselves collectively if the proposed world league fails to do so.

Last night Russia proposed in committee that there should be five deputy secretaries general (Please Turn to Page Twelve)

PARIS, June 14.—(AP)—Gen. DeGaulle is expected to depart for Washington by plane next week to discuss with President Truman the situation in Syria and Lebanon, which French government spokesmen describe as "increasingly unsatisfactory."

The disclosure that DeGaulle is planning to confer with a president was made by official quarters following a report that the United States had declined France's invitation to a five-power conference on middle eastern problems.

POLISH PROBLEM NEAR SHOWDOWN BY BIG THREE

Churchill Says Relations Improving as Reds Plan To Try Polish Prisoners

LONDON, June 14.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today relations among Great Britain, the United States and Russia had improved and that there was no "real basis" for misunderstandings with France over Syria.

Meanwhile the Moscow radio said today that the 16 Polish political leaders accused of "terroristic acts" behind Red army lines would be tried "within the next few days."

The broadcast named Gen. Stanislaw Okulicki as ring leader of the Polish group which it said would be charged specifically with "organizing terroristic acts and maintaining illegal wireless transmitters in the rear of Soviet troops in Poland."

Earlier, Moscow had announced the arrival of Warsaw delegates to the Big Three conference over the future of Poland. The Polish government in London expressed indignation over the meeting, which aims to form a Polish government of national unity.

British-Russian relations particularly have "undergone a marked improvement in the last week or so" with the breaking of the deadlock over Poland, Churchill said.

He said Gen. De Gaulle was sending former Premier Edouard Herriot to London to adjudicate differences between the countries, declaring:

"We have no idea of trying to supplant our French friends in Syria. We have no wish to steal our friends' property in any portion of the globe."

The Prime Minister, acting as foreign secretary for the ailing Anthony Eden, said Clement R. Attlee, Labor party leader, would accompany him to the Big Three meeting to be held sometime before July 26.

Churchill said the meeting Friday in Moscow of Big Three representatives was to "see if the Warsaw (Polish) government can be expanded or not."

Of relations with the United States, he said:

"Our accord with the United States continues to be complete and I have been very glad to hear from President Truman and to read his statements in the papers that he is agreeable to a meeting of what are called the three—no (Please Turn to Page Twelve)

275 SLAUGHTERERS CALLED IN BY OPA

Discrepancies in Reports To Be Asked About

CLEVELAND, June 14.—(AP)—The district OPA said today 275 northeastern Ohio slaughterers would have to explain alleged discrepancies in their reports to various federal agencies last year before obtaining permits under the new slaughtering control program.

C. A. Roth, district meat control officer, said the slaughterers have been ordered to appear at the district office in groups of 50, beginning tomorrow, with all records of their 1944 operations.

The operators involved are class two slaughterers, which means they sell more than 6,000 pounds of meat a year and do not have federal inspection.

Roth said reports submitted by the 275 to the War Foods Administration and the Defense Supplies Corp., showed a greater volume of business than indicated by the number of points turned in to the OPA.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 14.—(AP)—Special Agent James L. Dalton of the FBI reported today four discharged war veterans who perpetrated a series of car thefts and holdups armed with guns and ammunition stolen from the State Guard Armory at Montgomery had been arrested at Raleigh, N. C.

The four, all from Handley, Kanawha County, were identified as Sherman Lee Legg, 25, James Samuel Wraith, 18, Harvey Lowe, 21, and Edwin Lewis Hall, 21.

Dalton said State Highway Patrolman arrested two of the men after a filling station robbery, and that city police captured the others last night when bloodhounds tracked them into a swamp.

Dayton said they were accused of stealing an automobile near Handley, robbing its two occupants of $40 and tossing them, bound and gagged, over an embankment.

The car was later found abandoned near Chillicothe, Ohio, where another machine was robbed of $600 and his watch.

Rubber Springs Tested For New Postwar Cars

THIRD AND SEVENTH OCCUPATION ARMIES

Patton To Return to European Command

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today the Third and Seventh armies have been selected as the American Army's occupation forces in Germany rather than the 15th Army.

He did not, however, disclose the future of the 15th Army, which until recently has been viewed as the probable occupation outfit.

Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the Third, who was present at Stimson's news conference today, will return soon to his command in Europe, the secretary said.

The Seventh Army was commanded by Lt. Gen. Alexander Patch, but he returned to the United States recently, and was succeeded by Lt. Gen. Wade H. Haislip.

Stimson explained that at present the occupation units actually consist only of the headquarters forces of the two armies, made up of about 1,000 men and officers for each army. The divisions now in the two armies were not listed in this initial announcement, Stimson explained that the various units of the two armies were being screened.

Lucas, was on his feet calling for its passage "notwithstanding the veto of the governor."

"The cry of new taxes is a favorite way of condemning a good proposal," Daniels shouted. "This law doesn't run to eventually—it runs to May 31, 1947."

He asserted the measure would not increase the cost of public education to the taxpayers.

Cramer, however, estimated the cost would be increased nine per cent above the previous biennium. The governor has estimated the added cost for the next two school years at $15,300,000 over those of the preceding two years.

Opponents supported the governor's contention that the bill would provide additional money for "wealthy" school districts, which he said don't need it, and fails to take care of the needs of poor districts. They included Minority Leader Maurice W. Lipicher (Mahoning), H. D. Byrne (Portage) and Cline Johnson (Mahoning), all Democrats.

Lausche recommended $109,000,000 for the next two school years. The Daniels-Cramer bill provided $111,000,000 for the biennium but by extending the time through May, 1947, the total is increased to $117,760,000, he asserted.

Daniels said his measure provided an increase of $4.42 for elementary pupils and 10 cents for high school students in 190 school districts, and increases of $7.30 for elementary pupils and $5.50 for high school students in the 1,434 additional aid districts, plus accrued transportation and tuition costs.

Rep. Paul H. Ballard (R-Jackson) introduced the last of the finance bills in the House. It carried $228,770 for payment of 177 sundry claims against the state.

The Senate approved and sent to the House a joint resolution calling for an end of work June 29, except for two days next month, July 6 and 19. Since the adjournment would be taken on the latter date, Legislators would re-

The House scheduled an extra working day tomorrow in an effort to speed the legislative mill.

The governor's appointment of Lockwood Thompson of Cleveland as a trustee of Ohio State University for the term beginning May 16, 1946, and ending May 13, 1953, was confirmed by the Senate, and the appointment of Carl W. Smith, Kenton Democrat, as chairman of the State Civil Service Commission for the term beginning next August 31 and ending August 31, 1949, was received.

Creation of a nine-member commission to recommend sites for a new state fairgrounds and report to the next assembly was asked in a bill introduced by Sens. Roscoe R. Walcott and Everett E. Addison, both Franklin County Republicans.

The House completed passage of a measure designed to make Ohio eligible for $30,000,000 in Federal funds for postwar development of aviation over a ten-year period. A five-member Aviation Board would be appointed by the governor. The board would select a $7,500-a-year director and both would have the duty of coordinating development of local aviation projects with federal grants and regulations.

The House completed passage of a measure by Sen. Orval E. Whitacre (D-Stark) to increase salaries of two Canton municipal judges from $5,500 to $6,500 annually.

Fayette County Marine Is 'Back From the Dead' After Being Hit at Iwo

TELLS BUDDY ABOUT IT—Pfc. Cleo Whiteside of the Marines, who came back "from the dead" on Iwo Jima, tells his experiences to his boyhood chum, Pfc. Milo Morris, who soon expects to go overseas.—Journal Photo.

Pfc. Cleo Whiteside, 21, son of Mrs. Jess Whiteside, housekeeper at the Fayette County Children's Home, probably had one of the most harrowing experiences of any Fayette County man in the World War; for he was given up as dead and his comrades and the fanatical Japanese fought over his shell-torn unconscious form at the foot of Mt. Surabachi, on Iwo Jima.

Cleo, one of a family of 14 children, and youngest of seven brothers, was visited in Columbus this week, by his mother, while he was with one of his boyhood chums, Pfc. Milo Morris. Pfc. Whiteside, nephew of David Whiteside, superintendent of the Fayette County Children's Home, landed with the first wave of Marines to hit the beach, and took part in the bitter fighting that was soon raging on the island.

Suffering from a shrapnel wound across his body, Whiteside is now on leave from the U. S. Naval Hospital at Great Lakes, Ill., where he has been undergoing treatment for wounds received in the battle, and which nearly claimed his life.

There were 22 other Marines in the mortar unit with Whiteside, and the unit was soon under Japanese artillery fire.

"There were six of us left after four hours," he said. "My pack and gas mask were torn off by Japanese fire, but I was uninjured."

The men joined others and at the end of the first day were at the base of Mt. Surabachi. With three of his original group left, Pfc. Whiteside joined with another mortar unit fighting near the volcano.

During the second night one of his biggest thrills came. "A Jap officer jumped into a foxhole with three of us, and killed one boy with a sword. The other boy's hand was almost cut off when he grabbed the blade to save himself, but I managed to kill the officer with a pistol before he could reach me."

It was on the third day that he was wounded. About 10 A. M. he was returning to the "rear area" for ammunition, when Japanese artillery hit his group. "A piece of metal about three inches long hit me on the right side of the chest and traveled around my ribs."

Although the memory of the rest of his time on the island remains rather hazy, he knows that medical corpsmen pulled him in to a hole and gave him morphine to ease the pain. His rifle was stuck upright in the ground to show that a wounded man was there.

During the artillery barrage the rifle was blown down and passing men thought he was dead.

It was during the night that troops fought over his body in the constant counterattacks. He awoke twice to see what he believed were Japanese climbing in and out of the hole, but since they thought him dead he was not touched.

On the following morning he was discovered by Americans who got him aboard a transport where the wound was treated and the shrapnel removed. Later at Saipan another operation was performed.

For more than a month he was paralyzed from the waist down and during that time received 16 pints of blood plasma. "I was also given penicillin shots every three hours for 33 days," he said. His weight went from 150 pounds to less than 100. Since returning to the United States he has regained about 30 pounds.

Returned to Great Lake, he was granted a short furlough to be spent with his mother, and brother, Russell Whiteside, 1120 Harrison Avenue, Columbus. Four sisters also living in Columbus are Mrs. Emerson Dowler, 470 Gilbert St.; Miss Bernice Whiteside, 721 Heyl Ave.; Mrs. Bessie Ogilvie, 191 Brehl Ave., and Mrs. Don Sulser, 730 Yearling Rd.

He is enjoying a reunion with a childhood friend, Private Milo Morris, 1748 Summit Street, who is on furlough from Fort McClellan, Ala., where he is preparing for overseas duty.

Japan or the China coast. Premier Admiral Suzuki said it would take several months for the Allies to prepare an invasion force of 500,000 men and by that time Japan would be ready to meet them with five to ten times as many men.

He indicated Japan is already under practical military rule. This week his cabinet received powers to rule by imperial decree, and he disclosed today that the supreme military council, composed of army and navy heads, "functions virtually as a war cabinet." His own career as premier, and member of the supreme military council, will not end with the fall of Okinawa.

COUNCIL HOLDS SHORT SESSION

Judge R. H. Sites Collects $1,251.70 in May

Regular session of city council, Wednesday night, was short and little business was given attention.

Judge R. H. Sites submitted his report on fines, fees and forfeitures collected during the month of May, showing a total of $1,251.70.

The report showed 56 city cases with $1213.20 collected, and 8 traffic cases in which $21 was collected. There were two state cases of $17.50.

Tom Clancy asked regarding the grade for a sidewalk at 729 North North Street.

Sewer conditions on Paint Street in the vicinity of the Sunshine Feed Store, was discussed.

oil, will not end with the fall of Okinawa, Suzuki said.

American forces cut a little deeper into the northern and eastern sides of the escarpment where Okinawa Japanese are making their last stand.

Ninety-sixth Division infantrymen fought a 36 hour grenade duel in a jumble of rocks at the base of the main escarpment on the north and drove a 400 yard wedge into the enemy's bastion.

The Seventh Infantry established control of most of the escarpment in its zone.

On the western flank the First Marine Division strengthened its position atop Kunishi ridge, bringing up reinforcements through heavily shelled rice paddies in tanks under cover of a smoke screen.

The Naha pocket, also on the west coast, was eliminated by the Sixth Division Marines.

Desperate Japanese forces are fighting fanatically to prevent a Yank advance along the east and west banks of the Davao River on southeastern Mindanao.

On the east bank, the 19th infantry regiment finally smashed organized resistance, headquarters reported today.

West of Davao city, other 24th Division troops with elements of the 41st Division battled against tough opposition, terrible terrain, dense jungle and bad weather.

The 34th regiment ran into intense opposition driving up the main road from Ula to Baguio Mindanao.

In Luzon's Cagayan Valley area north of Manila, the 37th Infantry Division troops broke through frantic enemy resistance at Orioung Pass, seven miles northeast of Bagabag with support of heavy air strikes. This is near the entrance to Cagayan.

Japanese Premier Kantaro Suzuki admitted today the military had taken over the rule of the country and declared he would not resign even with the fall of Okinawa.

The Japanese people were instructed to make the home islands "a fortress rivaling Rabaul in impregnability," as the premier indicated the army and navy were depending on one bold strike at the American fleet and on overwhelming manpower to bring victory to the Rising Sun.

The developments were reported by the Tokyo radio and Japanese government controlled Domei News Agency.

Suzuki in a press conference declared the Okinawa struggle there was not "a decisive battle which will determine the final outcome of this war."

pressed in gross tonnage figures that are less impressive than the deadweight basis used by the Maritime Commission, was placed at 21,140,000 tons.

Nearly half of the army's troop losses, also announced last night, resulted from the sinking of two British-operated ships, said Maj. Gen. C. P. Gross, chief of army transportation.

Estimating that the 4,453,061 troops embarked from this country made an additional trip at sea between theaters, Gross said the loss amounted to only four out of every 10,000 as against 7.2 soldiers of every 10,000 in the first World War.

Losses in this war resulted from the sinking of 36 vessels and the damaging of five others and do not take into consideration casualties suffered in invasion landings.

The greatest tragedy was the sinking of the British troopship Rohma Nov. 26, 1943, off Djidjelli, Algeria, with the loss of 1,615 men—more than half the 1,991 American soldiers aboard.

understand how they could be the result of computations separately and secretly made.

"It may be that my layman's mind in this respect has erred in the conclusion that I have reached, but I will continue to be disturbed and anxious when I observe that repeatedly bids are being submitted which are so identical in figures that to claim they were the result of natural coincidence would be an extraordinary phenomenon."

The second major disaster was the sinking of the British-controlled Belgian troopship Leopoldville, torpedoed last Christmas eve off Cherbourg, France, on a trip from Southampton, England. Of 2,237 U. S. soldiers aboard, 764 were lost.

The heaviest loss on an American vessel resulted from the sinking of the Liberty ship Paul Hamilton by an aerial torpedo in April, 1944, off Algiers. It took the lives of 504 officers and men.

BOY TOYS WITH GRENADE OF MOST DEADLY TYPE

ATLANTA, June 14—(AP)—A youthful patron of an Atlanta theater was discovered nonchalantly viewing a western thriller—and toying with a hand grenade last night.

The boy said he had been given the grenade by a paratrooper, who told him it was "dead."

Far from being "dead," military authorities reported the grenade was one of the most deadly now in use—powerful enough to kill 75 or 100 persons.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for MacKenzie)

President Truman's full schedule and other situations seem to indicate the Big Three meeting will be held between July 5 and 15, but there is at least one possibility, if only a mere possibility, that it could come earlier.

Truman has a tremendous program before him between now and July 15.

The mere fact that the United Nations pact is expected to come before the Senate within that period would seem to be enough, since the president could be expected to play an important role then.

But Truman is to confer with Charles De Gaulle next month before leaving for San Francisco where the United Nations Conference is expected to close Saturday.

He expects to spend two days at home in Independence, Mo., the following week—perhaps June 27 and 28.

Coupled with the fact that Winston Churchill has an election on his hands July 5, all of this rather restricts the time in which a Big Three meeting can be held if it is to fall within the 40-day period Mr. Truman predicted on June 7, which also ends 5.

A meeting at such a time, taking the president and probably Harry Hopkins away from Washington when the Senate is expected to be debating the pact, would indicate supreme confidence of victory in what might very well turn out to be quite a fight.

Also, Mr. Churchill has already warned his constituents that he might have to be away before the election. Of course, that was before the meeting was definitely arranged.

Joseph Stalin is no longer head of an army fighting in the field, which once gave him good grounds for becoming one of the world's most visited men. A little reciprocity right now might reassure some of his erstwhile callers who are hearing widespread gossip that perhaps their neighborly attentions were more tolerated than desired.

It is hard to imagine anything which would fire the world with greater confidence, which would send the UNIO delegates home with greater enthusiasm, than to see Joseph Stalin and Winston Churchill join Harry Truman on the platform at the final meeting in San Francisco.

To repeat, a mere possibility. But isn't it an interesting one? And it certainly would ease the strain on Mr. Truman's date book.

B GASOLINE RATINGS RAISED ONLY FOR NEEDS

Holders of A gasoline ration books will automatically get more gasoline on June 22 through an OPA order increasing the gallon value of coupons, but holders of B books must show a definite need before they can be granted additional mileage, it was explained at the Ration Board's office here.

The explanation was given "to correct the impression that all B book holders are entitled to more gasoline," it was said. And, B book holders will get their increases—if need can be shown—only through application.

REP W. S. PAXSON IS TO CONDUCT MEMORIAL RITES

Washington C. H. Attorney To Go to Cincinnati for Services Sunday

Rep. W. S. Paxson, Washington C. H. attorney and Fayette County representative in the Ohio Legislature, will be in Cincinnati Sunday to conduct memorial services at the grave of his former friend and benefactor, W. O. Rakestraw, late manager of L. B. Harrison Club.

REP. W. S. PAXSON

It is the annual custom of the Club to pay tribute to Rakestraw's memory every Father's Day. This time was selected most appropriate because he had been the foster father of many thousands of young men during the 30 years he directed the Club.

Paxson lived at the Club in 1914 and 1915 just after he completed law school and started practicing law in Cincinnati before he came to Washington C. H.

It is a tradition of the L. B. Harrison Club to select a prominent alumnus to conduct the Rakestraw memorial each year. A pilgrimage from the club house in Walnut Hills to the burial lot in Spring Grove Cemetery is made by hundreds of alumni and friends of Rakestraw preceding the services at the grave at 3 P. M.

GORDON A. SHAW NOW IN MANILA

Working on Big Engineering Project With Army

(Special to the Record-Herald)
WITH THE 866TH ENGINEER AVIATION BATTALION IN MANILA—Cpl. Gordon A. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Shaw, is now on duty with the 866th Engineer Aviation Battalion in Manila.

Cpl. Shaw is an army truck driver now working on the largest engineering project ever attempted in the Philippines. As a key to its size, official figures released show a total of 840 buildings to be erected over a concrete area equivalent to that of a highway one and one-half miles long.

As a participant in the invasion of Mindoro, Cpl. Shaw was responsible for preventing the loss of a valuable piece of engineering equipment. One night Cpl. Shaw was on duty hauling an oil tanker on the San Jose air strip. A plane, in making the takeoff, got out of control and hit Cpl. Shaw's tank trailer setting it afire. Realizing that the burning oil presented a serious hazard to air operations from the strip, and knowing full well that it would be only a matter of minutes before the flames would spread to his tow-truck, Cpl. Shaw dragged the blazing tank-trailer off the strip, uncoupled it and pulled his truck away from the flames.

Cpl. Shaw was inducted in February of 1943 and was assigned to his present organization soon after being shipped to the west coast.

On April 22, 1944, he embarked for the South Pacific and has since seen service in New Guinea and on Leyte, Mindoro and Luzon in the Philippines. He is now authorized to wear, in addition to the Good Conduct Ribbon, the Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon with three bronze battle stars, the Philippine Liberation Ribbon with one bronze battle star and the Rifle Marksman's Medal.

Cpl. Shaw attended both Cherry Hill and Central Jr. High Schools in Washington C. H. Prior to his induction he was employed as a truck driver for the A. B. McDonald Co.

Cpl. Shaw has four brothers now serving in the Army. Pvt. Percy Shaw, wounded in France and recently returned, serves in the Infantry. Pvt. Charles W. Shaw, now stationed at Indianapolis, Indiana. Pfc. Archie P. Shaw is with a Railroad Operating Battalion now serving in Germany. Pvt. Harry S. Shaw has received wounds while serving with the Infantry in Germany.

BPWC AT HEAD OF BOND RACE AMONG WOMEN

Heard about the Pan-a-min Plan?

The Pan-a-min Plan calls for good hens, good feed and care, and Pan-a-min. Its goal is more efficient egg production.

Pan-a-min is the key in this plan because it supplies tonics that help the bird make better use of feed and supplies minerals essential in egg production. Pan-a-min Plan birds on the Research Farm lay as many as 23 more eggs per bird per year.

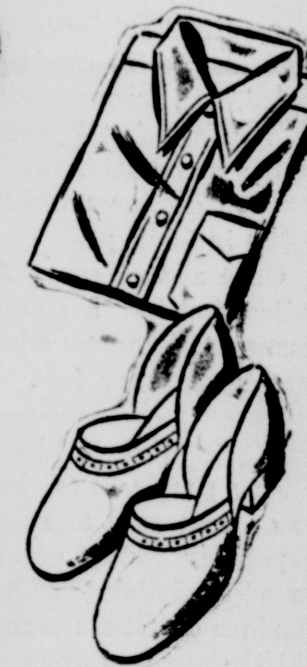

We believe the Pan-a-min Plan can help you step up the egg efficiency of your hens. We can supply the Pan-a-min.

Poultry Boom

It is just too bad for the chickens, and still worse for the people who want to eat them. Egg ceiling prices are suspended, and there's a greater demand for heavy weight poultry, and wherever a harassed hen or rooster looks in these war days, he or she glimpses somebody with an ax. Not only roosters, but laying hens, are counted on now to save the world for chicken dinners and democracy, and there are warnings of a "severe shortage of eggs" and a liquidation of the nation's egg-laying flocks.

Naturally black markets are blamed for most of this depletion of poultry supplies. There is also the fact that, as an expert sadly observes, "it takes less time to convert feed into chickens than it does into hogs or cattle."

Something will have to be done about it, without much delay.

Hague's Triumph

Jersey City evidently thinks differently from the rest of the United States. Elsewhere Americans do not like what they hear of the autocratic rule of Mayor Frank Hague, or of the wastefulness and omissions of his city government. Yet Jersey City has recently elected him to his eighth term.

Leaders of both parties oppose him. The Republican Governor Walter E. Edge, and his Democratic predecessor Charles Edison, have striven to clip his wings, yet Hague has triumphed over both.

Whether or not Jersey City cares to recognize the fact, there is a nemesis for such political subjection. In the 28 years before Hague the city's population almost doubled, and business expanded in proportion. In Hague's 28 years of office population has stood still, and the last census showed a decline from 316,000 in 1930 to 301,000 in 1940.

Once almost every American city was handicapped by a Hague, but municipal government has now advanced to the point where Hagues are few.

Exotic Novelist

Few people have led more exciting lives or possessed more mystery than the late popular writer of adventure stories, Achmed Abdullah. Readers of the popular magazines doubtless remember him. Even his birthplace was unusual, for it was Yalta in the Crimea, the home of the last Big Three conference. His father was Russian and his mother Afghan, according to some accounts the daughter of the Afghan ruler. Abdullah studied in the Mohammedan university at Cairo, yet was a devout Catholic. He fought in India, China, Tibet, France, West Africa, East Africa and Egypt; and his 30 books were laid in almost all of these countries. He wrote a grammar of African languages, and pot-boilers for the thriller magazines. Even the hastiest of these was redeemed by vivid pictures of strange countries. Finally he came to New York, where his penthouse was said to be furnished in Oriental splendor. With all that,

3. Which state is called "The Mountain State"?

Words of Wisdom

It is better by a noble boldness to run the risk of being subject to half of the evils we anticipate, than to remain in cowardly listlessness for fear of what may happen.—Heredotus.

Hints on Etiquette

Be brief, whether you are making a speech or having a telephone conversation. It is more thoughtful for those who must listen to you—which means it is better manners.

Today's Horoscope

You are sincere, hard-working and persistent in your determination to do everything well. You are generous, loving, and always willing to assist others.—You should find lasting happiness in love. Today your magnetism may be conspicuous and your goodwill is the magnet to attract to you what you want, not merely for self-satisfaction. Give thought to your country on this Flag Day.

his exact name was unknown, for Abdullah was only a pen name.

One at least of his books will live: "Lute and Scimitar", a collection of colorful poetry written by Turks of Central Asia. This opened a new field to poetry lovers, and made many regret that he did not live to do more of such work.

A Long Fight

The Japanese, who have as much persistence as any people in the world, may be disappointed by their failure in the present war, but are not stopped and apparently not discouraged. A current interpretation of their attitude, by Steffan Andrews, presents the long view of a patient race.

The Japs are said to have organized a war-time society binding them to continue fighting for twenty years, if necessary. They are orientals, less patient than their distant brethren the Chinese, but self-confident and filled with limitless ambition. It is possible that, even with all their relentless closing of the net around them, they still believe in their own superiority, and in victory.

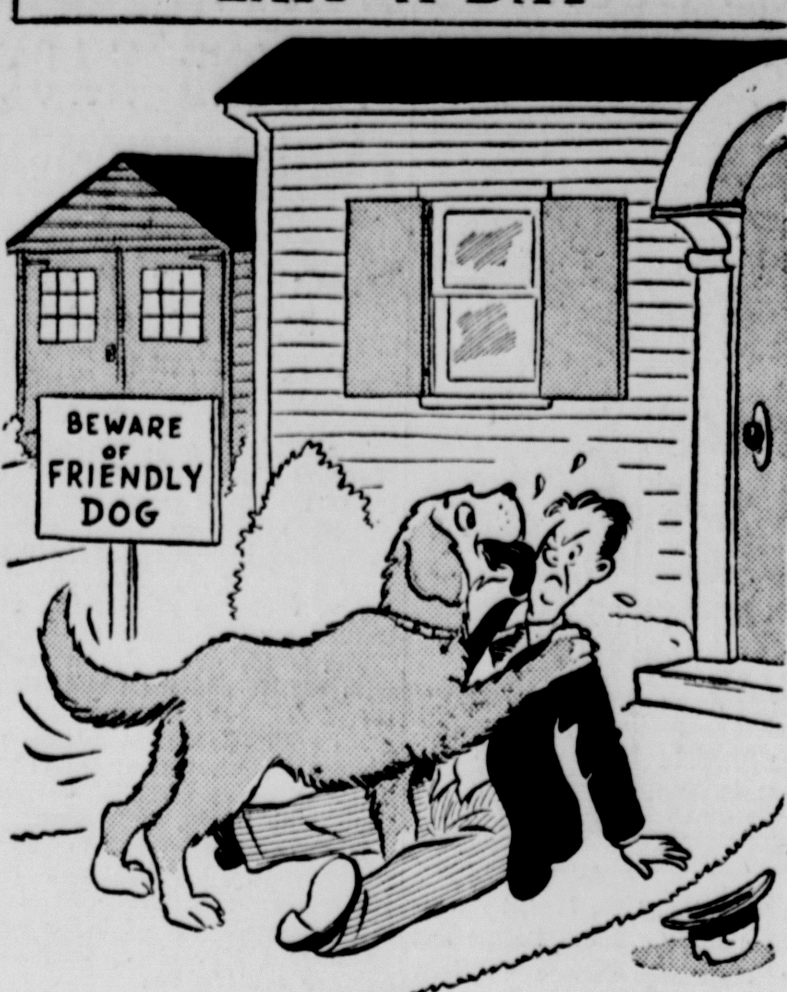

But they have taken on quite a job. It is a duplex task of vast proportions. In order to win, they must defeat and crush the foremost representatives of white civilization in the world—aided by millions of colored friends. The color line itself is melting away in these great struggles, with decent and intelligent dark races becoming the friends or allies of decent and intelligent white men. The war will not last twenty years, but if this composite job is well done, the victory should last for at least a hundred.

Brave Words

"I'll never abandon ship as long as a gun will fire." These were the brave words of Commander Frederick J. Becton, skipper of the American destroyer Laffey, which was hit heavily by Japanese bombs and appeared to be doomed. He brought her safely to port, and added one more to the list of brave sayings of our fighting men.

Becton's words will rank with Lawrence's "Don't give up the ship!" and Farragut's "Damn the torpedoes, full steam ahead!" and in this war Mike Moran's "Pick out the biggest and fire."

Diet and Health

Malnutrition, Delinquency

By HERMAN N. RUNDESEN, M. D.

THERE has been a great deal of discussion recently concerning juvenile delinquency, which in plain language means bad behavior in children. It is well recognized that certain physical disorders may be contributing causes for such bad behavior.

One of the physical disorders, which seems to be especially important, according to Doctor Aloysius S. Church of New York, is malnutrition. For example, it is known that a child who does not get enough vitamin B-complex may be irritable, moody and "mean." With more severe vitamin B deficiency, depression and emotional upsets are frequently noted. Of more than 700 children ranging in age from 11 to 17 years in a home for delinquent boys, four-fifths showed evidences of poor nutrition in various degrees.

Craving for Food

A large number of delinquent children crave food, may steal money in order to buy food, and when they do get it, they eat it rapidly. In institutions, delinquent children often hide food to be eaten later, even when they are assured of three good meals a day. Children talk about food as much as, if not more than, they do about any other subject.

Unfurled her standard to the air.

"THE MAKERS OF THE FLAG"

"The work that we do is the making of the Flag

I am not the Flag at all, I'm but its shadow.

I'm whatever you make me,

nothing more.

Your dream of what a people may become.

I am song and fear, struggle and panic and ennobling hope;

I am the day's work of the weakest man and the largest dream of the most daring;

No more than you believe me to be, and all you believe I may be—

I am what you make me, nothing more.

I swing before your eyes,

A bright gleam of color,

A symbol of yourself,

Suggesting all that makes this nation.

My stars and my stripes,

Are your dreams and your labors.

They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage,

Firm with faith.

Because you have made them so.

Out of your heart of hearts,

For you are the maker of the Flag

And 'tis well that you glory in the making!"

BICYCLE RACER DIES

LOIS EBY AND JOHN C. FLEMING

SYNOPSIS
TERRY ARNOLD, a young Vermont newspaperman, has written a fairly successful novel. To gather material for a second book she has gone to the Argentine, her subject matter to be the wealthy playboy set of that Latin-American country.

Other characters are:
BROOKS KIMBERLY, owner of Ultimo Ventura, a race horse;
CORINNE ARTIGAS, Kimberly's fiancée, and
RAFF CARDOBA, architect and friend of Kimberly.

YESTERDAY, Raff learns that he is being sought to join a big building firm and Terry is pleased to discover that he is enthusiastic about going to work. Terry also finds it difficult to forget Brooks' kind remark to her as he left for his campaign tour.

"I tell you I'm busy," Raff was saying.

The baroness chuckled him under the chin.

"Listen, tall blond and masculine," the baroness was saying. "Don't give me that. All I want is for you to play one hand of Russian Bank and then you can go back to your infernal drawing."

"Yes, you are definitely a bad influence," Terry said lightly. "I'll bet you've left an army of broken men in your wake. Always dragging them away from their work."

The baroness turned, looking a little startled.

"Oh, it's you!" she said. "All you need, dearie, is a whip and a hand-diehard mustache to be the perfect slave driver. In my day young people were only interested in fun. My stars, how the world has gone to the dogs!"

"Maybe it's just the idea of fun that's changed," Raff said. "To me this is fun."

"I tell you the man is out of his head!" the baroness moaned.

Raff threw down his pencil and slid from the stool at his drawing stand.

"I wouldn't do this for anyone but you," he said. "And remember, just one hand."

All three walked out onto the terrace where a group of towering old trees threw a nice pool of shade around metal tables and chairs. The baroness took a deck of cards from her handbag and shuffled them. Terry drew a letter from her pocket and started to read. It had just come from Fitz in the afternoon post.

Raff, glancing up from the game, talked in a monotone.

"Can you imagine a girl having the unmitigated gall to read her love letters in front of her latest pursuer?"

"I can imagine Terry doing almost anything," the baroness said firmly, winking at Raff.

"It's below zero in New York. Imagine that!" Terry said, completely ignoring her remarks.

"Some lover," Raff said, smiling. "If he has to resort to a report of the weather in his first paragraph."

"Will you hush, please," Terry said. "I've already read this page over six times and don't know yet what it says."

"Maybe you'd like to have me read it to you," Raff offered.

"Nice of you, but if you'll be quiet I think I can manage."

Fitz had gotten her letter. He said the whole thing sounded amazing. From anyone else he wouldn't believe her like the devil. He was missing her down there? He was a great idea—he'd talked to his editor, suggesting that he make a trip to Buenos Aires to write up a series of personal interviews with leading statesmen. Part of the "good neighbor policy." He would go through for about two weeks. Couldn't she plan on coming back with him? She finished reading, folded the letter and slipped it back in her pocket.

"Think I'll take a walk," she said abruptly.

"How about a swim before dinner?" Raff suggested.

"Okay. I'll meet you at the pool about five."

Terry left and walked through islands of shade, down past the stables, the harness shop, the warehouse, and finally to the old stone observatory. She glanced about before she entered. Somehow she always had a strange, guilty sensation of doing the forbidden on afternoons when she came down here to write. It was cool and musty in the little tower room, where she had cleaned off an old table and set up her portable typewriter. A few minutes later she was pecking away happily on her novel, the feeling of guilt forgotten. She was startled when she glanced at her watch to see that it was already five minutes past five. She put her things away and hurried back to the house. Raff was waiting at the edge of the pool when she came down in her white bathing suit and scarlet cape.

He took firm hold of her forearm as he faced her.

"Listen, Miss Mystery. Just where do you disappear afternoons?" he said. "I looked all over the place."

Terry's eyes sparkled with mischief as she laughed up at him.

"It's my best trick," she said. "Prenatal influence, I guess. My mother saw a Houdini show just before I was born."

"In other words, it's none of my business," Raff grinned.

Terry slipped away from him and dove into the green water. Swimming under water she suddenly bobbed up at the far end of the pool.

"Come on in," she called gaily.

Raff walked slowly to the end of the diving board.

"If you don't tell me the secret of your disappearing act I'll duck you 20 times."

Terry laughed.

"And if you do I'll disappear and never show up again."

Raff said, "You just can't win an argument with a woman. I should have known better."

With that he dove, cutting the mirror-like water like a knife. They swam for 20 minutes or so and then went to dress for dinner. When Terry came down Raff was already in the living room. Jime sat by the window knitting and the baroness was fluttering about a large package on the coffee table. She took Terry's hand and led her to a chair.

"Sit here, dear," she said. "You must see the unveiling."

"What's all this about?" Terry asked.

"It's the present Senator Artigas promised me that afternoon in town," the baroness explained.

"How exciting," Terry cried. "It's large enough to be almost anything."

The baroness started to untie the string.

"I hope it isn't another mink coat," she winked. "He knows my weakness for mink."

When the outer paper was torn away it revealed a large, unpainted wooden box. Slowly the baroness slipped off the cover, then her face fell in dismay. She picked a note from the top and started reading aloud:

"This, my sweet, will keep you busy for days and days, so you will have no time to bother busy men at their offices."

"I still don't know what it is," Terry said.

Half under her breath the baroness was muttering, "That old goat. I'll get even with him some day. If it takes the rest of my natural life! Imagine sending me a complicated jig-saw puzzle!"

After dinner everyone gathered around the radio awaiting Brooks' speech. At exactly 9 o'clock he started to speak. Terry was amazed at the deep timbre of his voice on the air, the magnetism that it carried. When he was finished no one spoke for a minute. Terry glanced over at Jime and saw the moistness shining in her eyes. Finally Raff said, "He sounds like he's been doing that from the cradle." Terry didn't speak, but somehow her heart was tearing madly again and she wondered if anyone in the room could notice the color she could feel in her cheeks.

Yanks Kept Scandinavians in War With Nazis

STOCKHOLM, June 14—(AP)—One night they would fly unarmed as civilians from Britain across dangerous Norway to Sweden and back. The next they would don their American airmen's uniforms to ferry precious arms, ammunition and food to the Norwegian underground.

That was the adventurous life of the American Aerial Supply Organization for Scandinavia, whose story of aid to Norway was released last night in London by Brig. Gen. Earl S. Hoag, chief of the Air Transport Command in Europe.

About a dozen of these quick-change lads are taking it relatively easy as members of the Stockholm ATC staff. Capt. Robert O. Durham of New York, currently ATC executive officer here, related today how he and others of the group parachuted agents and delivered 120 tons of supplies between July, 1944, and V-E Day to Norwegian Patriots awaiting them in valleys and atop snow-swept mountains.

FOOD SITUATION GETS NEW SLANT FROM AMERICAN

GI On Okinawa Writes Letter Home About Rationing

No meat, no sugar, no cigarettes, no butter — don't civilians have things tough?

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Patton have a letter from their nephew, Pfc. George S. Allison, who now is on Okinawa. It gives a different slant to the food situation — a tired, mudstained slant:

"First I want to say something about rationing. I know the people back there complain but at least they get fresh cooked food and can eat it off a table, without waiting in line with a mess gear and the rain pouring straight down, and then wait in line again to wash the mess gear and still in the rain, they don't have to go out and work 10 or 12 hours or more in the rain and come in soaking wet and get one can of meat or beans and another can with biscuits and soluble coffee and hard tack candy, or rations similar, or they don't have to drink coffee that was made in a G. I. can, which gives it a taste like tin, or they don't have to go to bed and have water dripping down in their face and sleep in wet blankets until it quits raining and you can hang them out to dry, or they don't have to jump up in the middle of the night and hunt a foxhole when the Japs come over. They don't have to worry while they are working of a night or day, when the Japs are coming over to bomb or strafe you, they don't have to wonder how close the nearest hole is and wonder if they can make it. They don't have to worry about taking atabrine everyday to keep the malaria down.

"But we got it easy here, it's safe and comfortable here where we are located, but just go up to the front. Yes there are boys that could complain, they have the right. They get cold chow and cold coffee unless they want to build a fire and invite a few snipers. They sleep in the mud when they get the chance, they live like that and you don't hear them holler about rations or cold chow or mud or sleep. They think of the day it will all be over and they will be back safe at home in the good old U. S. A.

"So the next time you hear someone holler about the rationing let him read this letter. He may not get enough, but it isn't cold beans he is eating and drinking cold coffee while he is lying in a muddy foxhole and shells flying around his head.

"We'll win this war over here but you and your neighbor have got to keep fighting back there. You keep the supplies rolling and we'll do the rest.

Pfc. Allison has been in the service not quite a year and a half. He has been overseas since last March and has a wife and two children in London.

GROCERY FIRM 'BACK HOME' IN NEW BUILDING

Central Co. Returns To Site
Where Fire Wiped Out
Office and Warehouse

After nearly eight months doing business from a wareroom of the Fayette Canning Co. plant, The Central Grocery Company which was burned out October 15, 1944, with heavy loss is now back in its former site in the W. M. Campbell block on Market Street, which has been rebuilt and thoroughly modernized for use of the company.

Featuring the new, one-story brick structure, are several large doors which will admit trucks to load or unload goods direct from the stock, without a second handling.

A great deal of delay in building the structure resulted by reason of the three months of bad weather last winter, and delays in obtaining material.

A great deal of additional room is available for the enlarged stock of the company.

Frank Head is president and Arthur Leland vice-president of the company.

PAPER DRIVE IS SET FOR SATURDAY HERE

Boy Scouts To Meet at 8 P.
M. Saturday

Washington C. H. Boy Scouts are to meet at Gardner Park Saturday at 8 P. M. to organize for a paper drive, it was announced today.

The county and state highway department trucks will be used to pick up the paper. Housewives have only to put it on their porch, the Scouts will pick it up and sort it.

Money earned from the drive will be prorated among the troops to use as they see fit—for camping or buying equipment.

Rev. John K. Abernethy, scoutmaster of Troop 64, will be in charge of the drive. Other paper collections are planned each month during the summer, it was indicated.

The word "castle" was introduced into English shortly before the Norman conquest, and denoted a type of fortress.

LARGE ACREAGE BEING PLANTED IN SWEET CORN

Pea Packing Will Start Here First of Week at Ladoga Plant

Due in part to the late planting season, the corn acreage in Fayette County, for the canning plants, will reach many thousands of acres, with the Ladoga Company's acreage near normal, and that of the Fayette Canning Plant about half the usual acreage.

It was stated by Manager Harry Hyer, Wednesday, that acreage is still being received, and that the response of the farmers has been very satisfactory, and a large corn pack at the Ladoga Plant is anticipated.

Hyer also stated that packing peas will start first of the week if weather permits, and that the acreage this year is about one-third normal. Indications are that the pea pack in the U. S. generally will be one of the smallest in years.

The Ladoga plant will also pack lima beans and succotash, and the acreage of beans is somewhat lower than usual, due to lack of farm labor.

At the Fayette Canning plant it was indicated that the corn acreage, about half that if the usual amount, will be packed elsewhere and that the plant, which normally packs thousands of cases of tomatoes, will not pack any tomatoes this year. This is largely due to lack of labor on the farms.

Pumpkin will be the only thing packed at the plant this year.

Whether the Ladoga plant will pack pumpkin has not been announced.

ARMY JOINS DRIVE ON BLACK MARKETS

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—The army joined today in a drive against poultry black markets.

The War Department announced that army representatives will be stationed at highway check posts in eight states to make spot purchases and requisitions of any poultry found to be moving into illicit channels.

The army's action was taken, the department said, at the request of War Mobilizer William Davis. A survey in recent weeks has shown, the department said, that "quantities of poultry, some of which should have gone to the army, have been trucked to black market outlets."

WCH SURGEON DOES OPERATION WITH GERMAN

Enemies Join Hands for Emergency Surgery on High Seas

An American Coast Guard surgeon—Dr. Ralph Samson, who graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1932—and a German submarine medical officer joined forces to perform a major operation on a U. S. Navy sailor 500 miles off the coast of Newfoundland, Coast Guard officials revealed today.

Dr. Samson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Samson who lived at 220 North Fayette Street in the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Denney until a year after their son graduated from high school. Mr. and Mrs. Samson now live on a farm three miles north of London.

Dr. Samson and the German physician worked together in the sick bay of the Coast Guard Patrol Frigate USS Forsyth shortly after the giant submarine U-234 surrendered May 15, in an attempt to save the life of Monroe Epling Konekemann, RM 3-c, of Washington, D. C.

The Coast Guard said Konekemann was shot accidentally in the small of his back when a German pistol went off in the hands of an American sailor, as he and other guards were collecting arms from the German crew.

First word of the accident reached the Forsyth when the German medical officer, Franz Walter, reported he was unable to operate because of limited facilities aboard the sub and because it was a two-doctor job. He volunteered to assist if the operation could be done aboard the Forsyth.

Dr. Samson, who now lives in Columbus, examined the sailor and then helped bring him back to the Forsyth. Two days after the operation on the high seas Konekemann was transferred to the Navy Dispensary at Argentinia, Newfoundland, where he died May 25 of internal hemorrhages.

Dr. Samson took his medical degree at Ohio State University.

Others in the capable cast include Rod Cameron, David Bruce, Walter Slezak, Albert Dekker and Marjorie Rambeau. Based on the adventures of an exotic dancer of the 1860's, "Salome, Where She Danced" has been filmed on a lavish scale. Highlighting the picturesque action, of course, is the spectacular performance of Miss De Carlo, seen as the agile enchantress of the long player list are J. Edward Bromberg, Abner Biberman and John Litel. Charles Lamont was the director. Seven beautiful girls, selected from the 20,000 applicants in Wanger's search for an ideal Salome, were given Universal contracts and appear in the extraordinary production.

Fair Race Program Here Given State's Approval

The $10,000 four-day program of harness racing for the Fair here the last week in July today had the go-ahead signal from the state racing commission.

Not that there ever had been any serious doubts about it after the federal ban was lifted following V-E Day, but the commission's O. K. was the last technicality to be cleared. Preparations, however, had undergone but slight let-up, if any at all.

Frank E. Ellis, secretary of the Fair Board, telephoned the racing commission secretary, Wednesday, just to make certain the application would be taken up by the commission which was then in session. Upon receiving assurance that it would be, he said he placed in the mail a check for $10 for the permit as required under the law. The $400 bond will not have to be posted with the commission until the week before the opening of the Fair.

In the absence of George A. Steen, chairman of the speed committee, Ellis said eight stakes on the program were certain to have full fields and added that "probably half of them would have to be split" because of the number of horses entered. The board secretary declared that he recalled it, only eight horses had definitely been withdrawn after having been nominated for the stakes.

In support of the eight stakes races for $1,000 each, four open class races with $500 purses are on the program.

Sixty-five days of racing at 16 Fairs were approved by the State Commission at their meeting in Columbus. A few more exhibitions were expected to file for dates before (Thursday) the deadline.

The Commission also approved June 18-July 7 as new dates for the Ohio Short Ship Harness Races at Marion. The meeting was scheduled to begin today but heavy rains delayed completion of the track.

Dates approved for county fairs were Van Wert, Sept. 3-7; Preble, Aug. 29-31; Trumbull, Aug. 20-23;

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, June 14—(AP)—You can always blame the umpire when you lose a ball game, but did you ever hear of the umpire winning one? It happened not long ago in Brigham City, Utah. The Brigham City Peaches were playing Camp Kearns and Hank Hansmann, 37-year-old Peaches' pitcher, was the plate umpire. When his team was trailing 4-1 after five innings, Hank decided something had to be done, so he took over the mound from Mary Abrams and curve-balled the Soldiers into submission.

That plus some wild fieldings by the Eagles gave Brigham City the game so the umpire also was listed as winning pitcher.

Newsprint Shortage

When Pittsburgh's Sports Writers, who will play the Sports-casters in a war bond baseball game at Forbes Field, July 8, discovered that the radio men had signed up Art "Pres" Rooney, the town's leading football and fight man, Chairman John L. Herson decided it was high time to do a little recruiting, too. Shortly afterward the Writer's roster listed Paul Waner, correspondent to the "Sarasota, Fla., Times," Jimmy Rippe, special correspondent to the Tri-State News Bureau from Export, Pa., Moose Solters, correspondent without portfolio from Mars, Pa., and Pie Traynor, correspondent at large.

Right On The Spud

In a recent midwest league game in Norfolk, Va., there was a runner on third when the catcher received the ball and turned his back to the mound. The catcher wheeled and made a wild peg toward third. As the "ball" sailed into left field, the runner dashed for home only to be met by the catcher, ball in hand. Investigation revealed that the kid had pulled a potato out of his pocket and heaved it over the third baseman's head. The umpire ruled out the play on the grounds that "unsportsmanlike conduct" must cover the situation if no other rule did.

Blind Date

Just 75 years ago today baseball's longest winning streak came to an end because Harry Wright, captain of the Cincinnati Red Stockings, couldn't see anything but a victory. The Reds, after 108 straight triumphs, were tied 5-5 with the Athletics after nine innings. Everyone thought it would be called a draw, but Wright insisted on playing to a finish and Cincinnati went down 8-7, in the eleventh.

Reds Break Losing Streak By Beating Cardinals, 2 to 1

(By the Associated Press)

If Capt. Hank Greenberg is headed toward the Detroit outfield and Rudy York is going to start hitting, it's time to rate the Tigers the team to beat in the American League.

Some already tab the Bengals as the class of the Junior Circuit but most fans have been reluctant to go all out for a club that leans so heavily on its slim pitching staff for success.

Although the Tigers lead the second-place New York Yankees by a full game today, and have won seven of their last eight, their over-all record has been spotty.

The case of Greenberg is not clear although an Army spokesman at Fort Dix, N. J., said yesterday the former Tiger may be out of service by tomorrow night. Neither he nor the Detroit club have indicated an early return to the lineup.

Greenberg, 34, has been in the Army since May 7, 1941, with the exception of an eight-week period in late 1941 and early 1942 when he was discharged as average but later re-inducted. In his last full season with the Bengals he hit .347 and bashed 41 homers.

York showed encouraging signs of ending his season-long slump yesterday with three hits for a perfect day against St. Louis, contributing a three-run homer, two singles and four runs-batted-in to the leaders' 6-4 victory. It was only his third round tripper of the season and his average still was a trifling .259.

Chicago made seven hits count for a 5-3 decision over Cleveland, although the Tribe backed up Steve Gromek with a 14-blow attack on Joe Haynes and two successors. Gromek's five-game win streak was snapped on a four-run fourth inning spurt. The Yankees and Washington were not scheduled and a Boston at Philadelphia night game was washed out.

Brooklyn took another fall out of the New York Giants, 3-2, pulling into a second place tie with Pittsburgh, only a half game off the pace. Hal Gregg did a five-hit job on the leaders to outpoint Harry Feldman. Pittsburgh and Chicago were idle yesterday but the Pirates can take over first place by winning two from Chicago today. A Bucco split and a Dodger triumph would put Leo Durocher's crew on top.

Two streaks ended as the Phillies went 15 innings to a 5-4 decision that snapped their record-breaking losing streak at 16 and the Boston Braves' victory string at nine. Mort Cooper had copped his sixth in a row in the opener of the doubleheader with an 8-3 triumph for the Hub.

Veteran Joe Bowman continued to pitch like a champ for Cincinnati after his discard by the Boston Red Sox, notching his third successive decision for the Reds by a 2-1 margin over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Bowman, who has won each of his three times out for Cincinnati, had a shutout to his credit until the ninth when Steve Mesner, Redleg third sacker, threw wild to first in an attempted double play which allowed Johnny Hopp to score the Cards' run.

The Reds marred St. Louis' pennant-raising celebration by getting two runs in the sixth. Gee Walker and Frank McCormick singled and Walker came home on a fly. McCormick moved to second on Al Unser's single to score when Eddie Miller hit safely.

Wilmington Team To Come Here for Game on Friday

Rain this week spoiled the Rotary Club Softball league games, but if weather permits, fans will get something special in the way of ball playing Friday.

The Auto Commission team of Wilmington is slated to play the Wilson Hardware outfit at 8:30 P. M. Friday—and the Wilmingtonians feature a girl infielder—the only girl playing in a men's league or on a men's team in this section, it is believed.

Next week's schedule is: Monday, Korn's Insurance vs. Troop 64; Hoff's Market vs. American Legion; Tuesday, Methodist vs. Moore's Auto; API vs. Sheldier Insurance; Wednesday, Presbyterian vs. Craig Brothers; Wilson Hardware vs. Company D.

The games slated this week will be played at the end of the schedule.

Even Break For Red Birds

(By the Associated Press)

Big Ed Wright, the rookie Indianapolis pitcher who is doing better than all right in his first season in the American Association, notched victory No. 9 last night, tops in the league.

Wright wasn't around at the finish of the Indians' 8 to 5 win over Kansas City as he was removed in the seventh after facing two batters. He was touched for nine hits during his tenure on the hill but his reliever, George Jeffcoat, turned back the last place Blues with a single hit.

Wright helped the Indians' offensive by driving in three runs. The win kept them in second place a half game behind Louisville, 6-3 winner over Milwaukee.

In other games last night, Toledo and St. Paul and Minneapolis and Columbus divided double-headers. The Saints defeated Toledo 7-4 in a wild seven inning opener, while the home team came back to capture the second contest 6-1.

At Columbus, the seventh-place Millers downed first-place Columbus, 6-3, in the first game, but the Red Birds copped the nightcap, 12-2.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, June 14.—(AP)—Rye was firm to strong but most other grain markets eased back under short selling and profit cashing today after marking up important gains during early trading.

All rye deliveries and May and December corn traded at new sensational highs, but offerings increased on all the bulges and there were skeptics, especially in wheat, who refused to follow the advance in prices any further.

At the finish wheat was 3/4c higher to 1/2c lower than yesterday's close, July $1.68 1/2. Corn was unchanged to up 1/4c, July $1.18 1/2. Oats were 1/4c to 3/4c higher, July $1.48 1/2. Barley was up 1/4c to 2c, July $1.15.

WEIRD PEACE OF TAVERN MOUNTAIN PRESENTS PROBLEMS FOR YANKS

fier of the cannon company—and king of Bad Gastien.

Not that things are anything new around here. The lieutenant already has exchanged pleasantries with 85-year old ex-King Ferdinand of Bulgaria who left his Balkan throne in 1917.

"I sent my sergeant over to his hotel," Summerall said. "He had dinner with the king and we fixed him up with a pass so that he could go riding around in his car through the valley."

But keeping Ferdinand happy is the Summerall's simplest problem.

His men are riding herd on the Berlin diplomatic personnel of a half dozen countries—including Japan—stranded behind the American lines after Germany's surrender.

The invigorating mountain air gives the diplomats a healthy appetite and there is not much food in the Bad Gastien Valley. Summerall had to refuse the Japanese request for permission to fish in the Gastien River.

He declined to give the Japanese exercising privileges, reasoning it would give them an even bigger appetite.

Nine members of the former Grand Mufti of Jerusalem's staff are under house arrest at the request of the British authorities. They too are complaining about the food and their confinement.

The 78th Division, policing British Eighth Army territory on the other side of Tavern Mountain, came through the tunnel the other day to pay the Americans a visit.

The five mile bore is the sole connecting link between Bad Gastien and Mallnitz on the other side of the mountain. The Yanks and

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 14.—(AP)—Stocks generally continued to progress moderately in today's market although some of the lately bulging aircraft ran into selling and a number of industrials exhibited considerable hesitancy.

Investment demand again was pre-dicated mainly on special situations, split-up reports, dividends, earnings and post-war optimism.

Sgt. Charlie Singletary of Cairo, Miss., explained, "They have been bringing in SS men for us. Give 'em back their guns." So the Germans took back their carbines and reported to a German colonel who sent them out on another patrol.

"It just seems strange," Singletary said. "Last night for instance, we had entertainment with the best band music and singing you ever heard. They were German soldiers from one of the hospitals. They asked if they could come over and play for us. One of the fellows had a leg shot off and another had an arm missing. Like as not some of us did it. But there they were singing for us."

It did seem strange as the Third Division Doughboys—who suffered more casualties than any other outfit in this war—sauntered towards the swimming pool.

The pool was filled with German soldiers and their girls. Most of the men had an arm or leg missing. At 2 P. M. the Germans climbed out of the pool, retreated to a respectable distance and stretched out on the grass in the hot sun.

The GI's, most of them clad in Khaki underwear shorts started diving and cavorting in the pool. The pool is theirs from 2 to 4 P. M. each day.

The new device acts as its own shock absorber, requires no lubrication or repair and contributes to the "low profile" effect of streamlined vehicles by reducing their unloaded height," Smith claimed.
